IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE DISTRICT OF UTAH

CENTRAL DIVISION

---

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Plaintiff,

v.

NOAH SIFUENTES,

Defendant.

MEMORANDUM DECISION AND ORDER GRANTING EARLY
TERMINATION OF SUPERVISED RELEASE

Case No. 2:08CR671DAK

Judge Dale A. Kimball

---

This matter is before the court on Defendant Noah Sifuentes' motion for early termination of supervised release. On August 20, 2010, the court sentenced Defendant to 21 months incarceration with the United States Bureau of Prisons followed by a 36-month term of supervised release. Defendant was released from custody and began serving his term of supervised release on May 3, 2012. Therefore, Defendant's term of supervised release is not scheduled to terminate until May 3, 2015.

Pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3583(e)(1), after considering the factors set forth in Section 3553(a)(1), (a)(2)(B), (a)(2)(C), (a)(2)(D), (a)(4), (a)(5), and (a)(6), the court may terminate a term of supervised release "at any time after the expiration of one year of supervised release . . . if it is satisfied that such action is warranted by the conduct of the defendant released and the interest of justice." The factors to be considered in Section 3553(a) are those factors to be considered in imposing a sentence, including "the nature and circumstances of the offense and the history and characteristics of the defendant,” the applicable sentencing guidelines and any policy statements issued by the Sentencing Commission, and the need for the sentence imposed to promote respect for the law, to provide just punishment, to deter other criminal conduct, and to provide the defendant with needed services. See 18 U.S.C. § 3553(a).

The court has contacted Defendant’s probation officer and has learned that he does not oppose early termination. Defendant has complied with all the terms of his supervised release and, according to his probation officer, has already been moved to low intensity supervision. Defendant seeks early termination so that he can engage in business opportunities internationally. Defendant’s letter to the court states that he has turned his life around. Based on Defendant’s conduct during his term of supervised release, the court finds that an early termination of supervised release is warranted. Accordingly, the court grants Defendant’s motion for early termination of supervised release.

DATED this 3rd day of May, 2013.
